NETIA MEDIA LOGGING

With NETIA's Web-based Media Logging product range, broadcasters, telecom and mobile phone operators, and Internet companies can monitor radio and TV by the capture, indexing, transcoding, and distribution of audio and video content. Files are captured 24 hours a day into a database where they're individually examined, segmented, and completed with the necessary associated metadata in automatic or semi-automatic mode through the use of speech-to-text and image recognition techniques.
